IOWA FOCAL WEST STATE IN POLITICS

Trend Can Be Analysed
from South Dakota, Nebraska and Iowa

SMITH PROVES STRONG

Republicans Always Gain
Late in Race—Religion
Unknown Quantity

Sioux City, Iowa.—This is a focal point in western politics. One gets here the overflow from two neighboring states, South Dakota and Nebraska and the trend in northwestern Iowa. Usually it's all Republican except when a Roosevelt is running. There were only faint traces of Wilson strength here in 1916. But this time there is a decided Smith sentiment in this section which may or may not be ominous for the Republicans.

Two observations have been made over and over again to the writer by so many people that they must always be set down as fundamental in trying to analyze a situation. One is that late September is not late October and that the Republican momentum gets into its stride late in the campaign. The other is that all previous calculations and all surface indications can be thrown into the ash-can because nobody knows how the religious issue will cut and which side will benefit from it.

It is significant that in Sioux City
people who have been talking politics with the writer for sixteen years on the occasion of every quadrennial visit and who ordinarily speak with circumspection about the Republican outlook express themselves dubiously
about this section. The farm problem is an issue and the anti-Coolidge feeling which manifested itself in the large LaFollette vote is still here
ready to make another protest.

SOUTH DAKOTA DOUBTFUL
Why should South Dakota be regarded as "close"? For that is what one of the leading Republicans of the state told this correspondent,
though at the same time he expressed the belief that in November the Smith strength would have been diminished. Well, there are a number of factors that make the Democratic lead high this time in South Dakota.

Governor Bulow, who will be recalled as one of the speakers at the Jackson day dinner, has proved that a Democrat hasn't any horns and the people here like him. His election for governor was a surprise. He is out for Smith and will help the national ticket. Senator Peltz, Nor-beck, Republican, was one of those who insisted that Hoover could not carry South Dakota if nominated.
He is not taking an active part in the campaign.

South Dakota has only one newspaper supporting Governor Smith—the rest are all for Hoover. But there are thousands of radios in this state and every time Governor Smith tells the farmer that he isn't getting the benefit of the tariff and that he is producing his crops at a cost higher than he sells them for this

JUDGE FOUND GUILTY OF EMBEZZLING COURT FUND

Barron.—(AP)—Judge Charles A.
Stark, Rice Lake, the third Barron county municipal judge to stand trial for embezzlement, has been found guilty on one of four charges.
He was found guilty Saturday night
of withholding a fine of $50 in a liquor case. He is to appear before County Judge H. S. Comstock Wednesday for sentence. When he testified in his own defense Saturday, Judge Stark said that only $300 was in his accounts was traceable to old accounts, and that at all times he had had a balance in the bank to cover any shortages that might have appeared.

NO FIRES SO KENOSHA'S CHIEF PAINTS FLAGPOLE

Kenosha.—(AP)—Three days without a fire don't build firemen, opines Chief John Schwartz. So the chief, who believes in calling a spade
a spade, shrimped up the city hall
flagpole to give it a coat of paint.

"Nothing like practicing economy
for the city," said the chief, as he descended amid the crowd that had gathered. "Saved $10, and I need nothing up."

SEE NEW OUTBREAK OF CAB WAR IN CHICAGO

Chicago.—(AP)—Two Yellow Cab
company garages on the North side
were bombed with dynamite Sunday night, signalling what police fear may be the reopening of warfare between employees of rival taxi cab concerns. Police guarded all Yellow Cab garages Monday to prevent further outbreaks.

Ready for Hop Across Atlantic Ocean

Here is the giant "Graf Zeppelin," Germany's largest and latest dirigible, which soon is to attempt a flight from Germany to California, via New York. The number of men seen in the ground crew gives an idea of the power of the huge craft. This picture was taken as the big ship was leaving its hangar for a trial flight.

Horseplay In Fraternity Rites Fatal To Student

Austin, Tex.—(AP)—Nolte McElroy, 19-year-old University of Texas student and athlete of Houston, Texas, was dead Sunday—the victim of a mock Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity initiation which turned from a bit of student horseplay to tragedy. McElroy died Sunday night a few minutes after being shocked by light wifes, connected by a rheostat to two sets of bed springs through which he crawled as part of the traditional fraternity ritual for neophytes.

PAY LAST TRIBUTE TO FLORIDA DEAD

6,000 Persons Attend Common Funeral Services at West Palm Beach

West Palm Beach, Fla.—(AP)—Blossoms spared by the hurricane Monday covered the common graves of nearly 1,000 persons who passed in a single night—the visible token of Florida's grief for her 2,300 storm dead.

Invisible, but perhaps more expressive of the grief of the 6,000 or more attended Sunday afternoon's common funeral services here, were the prayers and hymns voiced by massed choirs and the several clergy.

Over the rude graves, scooped up for the most part by a clean shovel
while the hurricane was still a nightmare to those who felt its ruthless breath, the thousands stood, almost staring at the metal discs that dotted a community of dead. There were 69
of them on the grave at a white cemetery here—a cemetery that lay scarred and debris strewn, whereas
two weeks ago it was a spot of quiet
and colorful beauty.

In the case of the 674 Negro dead,
just for the white victim, utmost simplicity marked final rites, although cries of bereaved often drowned out the chanting voices of the ministers.

West Palm Beach laid aside the urgent work of reconstruction as far as possible for the Sunday community funeral, which was not alone
for those whose bodies had been buried, but also in honor of any who might have been swept into eternity by the dread hurricane.

treats of the Everglades.

AL DELUDES AUDIENCE, G. O. P. LEADER CLAIMS

Milwaukee.—(AP)—An assertion that Al Smith's Milwaukee speech was typical of other speeches on his western trip, in that he sought to delude his listeners and, with seeming intent, laid absolutely false impressions, was made by Alvin P.
Kietzsch, chairman of the Hoover-Curtis Volunteer Club of Wisconsin in a statement Sunday.

Washington.—(AP)—A sub-committee of the national Republican committee met here Monday to consider the dispute in Wisconsin over membership in the committee, but reached no definite decision at the first conference. George Vils and Mrs.
Harry E. Thomas, the regular Republican nominees, and H. L. Ekern, and Mrs. Elizabeth McConick, the LaFollette adherents, were invited to attend, but only Vils put in an appearance.

Madison.—(AP)—Daniel H. Grady, Portage attorney, who is to act as prosecutor in the Dane county John Doe investigation into alleged violations of the corrupt election campaign, and District Attorney Glen-D. Roberts conferred Monday afternoon in the district attorney's office here. The two attorneys were laying plans for the conduct of the investigation, according to Mr. Roberts, and may hold a brief conference

with Superior Judge S. B. Schein.

Superior.—(AP)—Firing, police say,
after they had attempted to hold up and rob Sam Lary, proprietor of the Ritz cafe here early Monday morning
two youths wrecked their car and were killed. The crash victim was Lawrence Johnson, 29, of Duluth.
His companion, Wilfred Johnson, 21, was injured, but not seriously. He was being held on $1,000 bond facing a robbery charge. The two are not relatives, Wilfred says.

AL CHEERED BY RESULTS OF TRIP WEST

New York Governor Back in Rochester to Attend
Party Convention

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer
Governor Smith's Train Enroute
to Rochester, N. Y.—(AP)—I feel fit, but anxious for a rest after his first
two weeks of arduous campaigning, Governor Smith approached home
soll Monday confident that his efforts in the west have had a beneficial effect.

Six formal addresses in as many states, six thousand miles of traveling the rails, approximately fifty personal appearances on the rear platform of his special train to greet thousands of well-wishers and a round of receptions and political conferences was a matter of history
for the Democratic presidential nominee as he neared Rochester for the New York state Democratic convention.

A series of conferences with state party leaders has been planned for the nominee soon after his arrival in Rochester. He will address the convention there Monday night on the political situation in the state. Whether he will confine his remarks to the party record of the last two years or extend them to embrace
his views on the Republican state ticket and platform decided upon after the weekend at Syracuse had not been determined early Monday.

Speeding eastward from Milwaukee, Governor Smith was the object of noisy greetings from crowds along the same route he traversed two weeks ago while going westward. At Chicago hundreds of well-wishers appeared in the train yards just before sundown to shake his hand and shout the name of "Al" until they were hoarse. They remained there for an hour while the governor was switched from the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific to the New York Central lines. Another crowd turned up at Elkhart, Ind., and a Toledo, O., group gave him a bedtime cheer around midnight.

ARRIVES AT ROCHESTER

Rochester, N. Y.—(AP)—Governor
Smith arrived at 9:30 Monday morning on his special train to attend the Democratic state convention. He was given a big ovation at the New York Central Railroad station.

An air of great uncertainty hung
over the delegates to the state convention of the Democratic party
Monday as to who would be the successor to the party.

At the last five conventions of the party Governor Alfred E. Smith has been the nominee, practically without opposition. Now the governor's candidacy for the presidency leaves
the leaders searching for a candidate.

There are a number of aspirants
but their campaigns have not reached the shouting stage, because it is recognized generally that the governor, who will address the convention Monday night, will have the final say by virtue of his leadership of the party.

HE WON'T DICTATE
The governor has frequently said
that this will be an "open convention" meaning that he would not attempt to dictate the state. However,
the leaders and the potential candidates themselves agree that the governor's desires must be taken into consideration as a matter of course.

Most of the talk among the delegates revolved about the naming of Franklin D. Roosevelt, and United States Senator Robert F. Wagner.
Friends of Mr. Roosevelt said, however, that his health would not permit him to make the race. Senator Wagner was represented as feeling that he could be of greater service
to the party in his present position.

Says Hoover Is Gaining In Dixie States

Southern Division G. O. P.
Chief Tells Work Party
Makes Rapid Progress

Washington.—(AP)—Chairman Work
of the Republican national committee, is highly optimistic of Herbert Hoover's prospects in the usually staunchly Democratic south.

He issued a statement Monday night saying that for the first time heavily the Republican party is actively campaigning in Dixie. A report submitted by Horace A.
Mann, the director of Hoover activities in the southern division, was appended which predicted that Hoover would receive an overwhelming electoral majority in the south, and declared that in some of the southern states the Republican nominee is in the lead at the present time.

In his report, Mann, who has been referred to as the "Hoover leader," declared untiring charges to the effect that his office had flooded
the south propaganda attacking Governor Smith and had been in close contact with agencies disseminating material of this nature.

88 ELECTORAL VOTES
Mann's territory includes the states of North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Tennessee, and Kentucky. These, he said, have 88 votes in the electoral college, and added that it was his opinion that if the election were held tomorrow Hoover would be given an overwhelming majority of these 88
votes.

At another point, he said that Hoover was gaining in the south
and predicted that his followers
there "will continue to increase and that this will result on election day
in our not only obtaining a majority of all the votes the south will cast,"
but also the votes of the south will be a Republican organization.

South, Mann said, had been imposed by "an unfair press," almost unanimously Democratic, adding that through Democratic spokesmen the southern electorate was, nevertheless, becoming familiar with the issues of the campaign.

AL TRADES BROWN DERBY FOR GREAT DANE PUPPY

Milwaukee.—(AP)—Governor
Smith's campaign special train
aboard an additional passenger here Sunday, but the newcomer was forced to put up with the baggage car accommodations for the long trip to Albany.

Before the train pulled out for the east, the Democratic presidential nominee was given a "Great Dane" derby. A "Brown Derby Club" of Milwaukee, a clumsy white pup
with black markings, that looked a bit scared as he was introduced to the baggage master for the ride to his new home. The dog was presented by William J. O'Malley, head of the club, who in return received a brown derby from Governor Smith.

DESPONDENT OVER HIS ILLNESS, KILLS SELF

Burlington.—(AP)—Discouraged by heart trouble, which had forced him to give up a series of jobs in the last year, Elmer Brockmeyer, 37,
suicided by gas through a rubber hose
Sunday afternoon.

Less than 24 hours were required to 20 to realize their ambition of winning the air endurance record
back to the United States.

Frock and Schlee took off in the plane at 6:45 Saturday afternoon in an effort to better the record of 65 hours, 25 minutes, established by the German airmen, Johann Rusten
and Wilhelm Zimmerman last June.

To gain official recognition the airmen must remain aloft an hour
longer than the record.
Sunday night the fliers were based inland by a sea fog which forced them down to 500 feet, where

HOPE HOOVER STAND WILL CURB BIGOTS

Candidate Wants to Hold Over-zealous in Check
on Religious Issues

BY JAMES L. WEST
Associated Press Staff Writer
Washington.—(AP)—Herbert Hoover
is earnestly hopeful that his clear cut announcement on the religious question will serve to prevent overzealous workers in his party from advertising to this subject during the remainder of the campaign, either by written or spoken word.

There probably is no subject upon which the Republican presidential candidate feels more deeply, as his reputation of the Caldwell letter indicated and he often has expressed to those around him the keen regret that this matter has been brought into the campaign.

Hoover on more than one occasion
has made known his view that a political fight along religious lines not only violates the very fundamental principles upon which the republic was founded, but also is fraught with grave danger to the country since it aligns one body of citizens against another in a warfare which might have far-reaching effect.

Hoover's hope had been that his original declaration to the party workers through (Chairman Work of the national committee, and his voluntary announcement for religious tolerance in his acceptance of this office would clearly the presidential contest to be fought out on the real issues.

MAKES TWO STATEMENTS
Having again made his position clear in two statements concerning the mimeographed letter sent out over the form signature of Mrs. William C. Mann, Republican national committeewoman from Virginia, which urged the women to save the muzzle pointing toward him.

As he pulled the trigger toward him
the trigger caught on the seat and
sent the full charge of shot into
the boy's chest, causing instant
death. The gun was not equipped with a safety device, it was said.

Stern of New London were in one boat and Earl Bringer and Roy Que-man of New London were in another boat nearby.

NO INQUEST
Sheriff J. O. Hansen and Under-sheriff Harold Miller investigated
the accident and declared no formal inquest would be held.

The boy is survived by his parents, one sister, Lily and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Ref-ke and Mrs. Adeline Somkosky. Funeral services are to be held at 1:30
Wednesday afternoon from the home of the boy's mother, Mrs. Theodore Refke, in charge. Interment will be in Riverside cemetery.

NEW LONDONER INJURED

Condition — Eleven
Others Dead in State

An Appleton youth and a Milwaukee man were killed and a New London man was seriously injured
in weekend accidents near Appleton. The dead and injured are:

Elmer O. Refke, 15, Appleton killed by accidental discharge
of shotgun while hunting ducks.
Herbert Thorson, 27, Milwaukee, killed in automobile accident near Waupaca.

London.

The Refke boy, son of Mr. and was hunting ducks with his uncle, Karl Klause, 1910 S. Onondaga, on Cincoes lake in the Cut-off district of the Wolf river near Waupaca

when the accident occurred about 7:45 Sunday morning.

The boy had received his hunting license on Saturday when he had reached the legal age limit. His father had given him $5 to buy a double-barrel shotgun.

SEIZES GUN'S MUZZLE
With his uncle, the boy was in a row boat and nearby were several other boats containing hunters
from New London. A flock of mud hens flew by and the boy excitedly reached for his gun which lay in the bottom of the boat with the muzzle pointing toward him.

As he pulled the trigger toward him
the trigger caught on the seat and
sent the full charge of shot into
the boy's chest, causing instant

EKERN REFUSES TO ATTEND NATIONAL G. O. P. GATHERING

Head of Republican State Committee Says Meeting Is Unimportant

Madison—(P)—Herman L. Ekern, chairman of the Republican state central committee, and Miss Elizabeth McCormick, who, with him, was elected a member of the national Republican committee from Wisconsin, are not attending the national executive meeting Monday in Washington which is to establish a new party, because Mr. Ekern does not think it is important that they go there.

A letter to Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican National committee, advised the latter that "all of the facts concerning the selection of the committeeman and committeewoman from this state are set forth in my letter of July 31, and my letter of Aug. 2, and I request that they be submitted to the special committee."

Mr. Ekern made public these letters Monday in response to a telegram from Mr. Work on Sept. 24, "advising me that the special committee of the Republican National Committee will meet in Washington Oct. 1 to consider 'the merits of the contest involving the seats of the national committeeman and national committeewoman of Wisconsin.'"

Mr. Ekern advised Dr. Work that "at a meeting of the Republican State Platform Convention, held Sunday, Sept. 18, I was elected chairman of the state central committee and pursuant to that action I have called a meeting of the committee at Madison, Sept. 28. Following that meeting of the committee it will be necessary for me to confer with the Executive committee of the state central committee and map plans for the conduct of the campaign in Wisconsin. For this reason it will be impossible for me to be present at Washington Monday, Oct. 1."

In the letters to which Mr. Ekern referred Dr. Work and the national committee, the Badger Progressive leader repeatedly laid claims to legal election and right to sit on the national committee.

Mr. Ekern stated in one of them to outline the works of the late Sen. Robert M. La Follette, Sr.

QUESTIONS MOTIVES

In the July 31 letter, after calling attention to Mr. Work's significant intention to have Geo. Vits and Mrs. Harry Thomas, Sheboygan, in the Republican national committee meeting, and reviewing the election of Wisconsin delegates to the Republican national convention, Mr. Ekern admitted Mr. Work's "right to ask any persons you choose to attend any conference you may hold, but your letter and announcements clearly state that the meeting in Chicago Aug. 4 is for members of the National committee and your belated invitation to me now indicates that you are asking Miss McCormick and myself to participate in this meeting either as outsiders or as dividing responsibility as members of the national committee with Mr. Vits and Mrs. Thomas."

"In effect," Mr. Ekern continued in this letter, "you ask us to recognize your right to repudiate and set aside the legally and fairly expressed will of the Republicans of this state. We cannot and do not recognize the right of you or any one else to nullify the property expressed will of the Republicans of any state. To take any other petition would repudiate and endanger the cornerstone of representative government."

Mr. Ekern then expressed the hope that Mr. Work regard these remarks as anything but personal affront to the national committee chairman, but consider only the principle involved.

In the latter letter, Aug. 3, Mr. Ekern pointed to the processes whereby he and Miss McCormick were elected at the Kansas City national convention with seventeen votes each while Mrs. Thomas and Mr. Vits were receiving nine each. He cited rules of the party to show that the election was valid and that the votes of Mrs. Thomas and Mr. Vits were thereby ended.

"The record of Wisconsin is clear on the choice of members of the new committee. No objection or protest was made at the meeting of the delegates. No question was then or has been raised with regard to the regularity or fairness of the action so taken and none can be raised."

Mr. Ekern then raised the point that at the meeting of the national committee after the convention he and Miss McCormick were present and voted when their names were called from the regular roll. This he said was in the face of the presence of Mr. Vits and Mrs. Thomas and their counsel, who made no protest.

Taking up the amendment of the rule under which irregularities are settled by the special committee, Mr. Ekern said that in the case of the Georgia members their state had gone without recognition and that it was latter to come up. He added that he had been promised notification if the Wisconsin contest came up and that no notice had been given.

WILL LAY PAVEMENT ON COUNTY ROAD THIS WEEK

Workmen probably will start laying asphalt on county trunk Z the middle of this week, providing a shipment of material arrives, according to construction men. A stone base has been finished from the Appleton city limits to Kimberly. Heavy rollers were used in putting the base into condition preparatory to pouring asphalt.

Six expert asphalt layers from Chicago have been secured by the Valley Engineering and Construction company to finish the road. When completed the section from Appleton to Kaukauna will be paved. Work on the base is being advanced to Combined Locks, and after that is completed the equipment will be moved to the east side of that town, because the highway through Combined Locks has been paved.

J. N. Fisher returned from Chicago Saturday where he spent several days on business.

IOWA FOCAL STATE OF RAGE IN WEST

kind of doctrine is all too familiar having been the basis of McNary Haugenism for the last several years. Hence if there were no religious issue to influence the result, this part of the country would be ruled by Smith or any other champion of readjustment of the farm problem. Here is a significant editorial which appeared the other day in the Sioux Falls Argus Leader which is supporting Hoover.

"If we were Charles S. McDonald, Hoover chairman in South Dakota, we'd write a letter or send a telegram to national headquarters urging that it use its influence to suppress the rabid literature that is being spread over the state concerning Smith's religion. The Republican headquarters are certain has nothing to do with this absurd propaganda but it might be able to point out to the broadcasters of it that they are doing the cause more harm than good. The literature is inflammatory but it inflames in the wrong way from a Republican viewpoint. It incites resentment among thoughtful people almost to the point of a vote for Smith in expression of this disapproval. . . . A few magazines and organizations are responsible for this silly campaign material. Republican have nothing to do with it. They have presented incontrovertible proof to that effect but it doesn't alter the fact that it is damaging their cause."

Opinions differ as to the effect of the radio speeches of Governor Smith. There are Republicans who insist that the western trip was actually cost Al Smith votes. They base this on the idea that while he talks hopefully about farm issues he comes from an atmosphere so alien to agriculture that the west can detect it in his dialect. Also the ecologism in the Oklahoma speech, well intentioned as it must have been in order to acquaint the west with an unfamiliar personality did have its unfavorable results. These indications are, in conclusion, that Smith is a strong candidate in this region—the strongest since Wilson of 1916—and he made an impression on his return trip that will last as long as it is followed up by his colleagues or himself. The Republican organizations have the determination and enthusiasm to break down the Smith lead and the job is not so difficult because this is a naturally Republican country and the month of October is expected to bring back the "errant ones" who have strayed from the flock. This section will help keep the Iowa majority for Hoover around 100,000 instead of three times that which it has been before. And also the voting in northeastern Nebraska indicates some help to the Smith cause which will keep that state a doubtful to the end. As for Dakota it must be called close with the edge slightly in the Hoover direction.

WISCONSIN WEATHER

Partly cloudy to cloudy and cooler tonight, probably frost; Tuesday mostly fair; cooler in extreme south-east.

GENERAL WEATHER
A trough of low pressure extends from the Lake Superior region to Texas this morning, with centers of activity northward to Lake Superior and over eastern Kansas. This "low" is moving eastward and favors the development of local showers in this section as it passes here this afternoon or early tonight. It has already caused some showers over the northern central plains and northwestern lake region. Higher pressure is overspreading the Great plains following the "low" and this should extend its influence to this section by late tonight and Tuesday, with generally fair and somewhat cooler weather.

NEW COURSE AT "U" IN TEST THIS YEAR

Experimental College Goes to Second Year; Director Won't Comment

Madison—(P)—Dr. Alexander Melkjohn, philosopher and director of the Experimental college of the University of Wisconsin, still is unwilling to commit himself as to the success of the project and instead points out that the college is facing its "real test" this year.

A year ago, when the college was founded, 110 freshmen became "guinea pigs" and for two semesters they lived in a unit of the men's dormitories here, studied Athenian civilization and moved to their second year.

Today, Dr. Melkjohn has two classes. The incoming freshmen, 125 in number will again take up Athenian civilization, while the sophomores, after their dip into the past, will devote their attention to American civilization. Next year they become academic juniors in the regular arts school of the university.

To prepare for "Americana," sophomores have read biography, literature, history and science of the United States in the course of the summer. The director feels that they now are prepared for a more thorough study.

DUCK HUNTERS! WATCH SHOTGUNS

Know Limitations of Weapons Before Banging Away at Distant Flocks

Madison—(P)—Duck hunters, know your limitations, or at least the limitations of your shotguns.

Complaints have come to the conservation department from hunters all over the state that shooting is being spoiled more this year than usually by the hunter who doesn't know the range of his gun.

"Nothing is more exasperating to a hunter than to see a flock of ducks circling into his decoys frightened away by some other hunter shooting at the birds while they are way out of his range," the conservation heads said.

"Hunters call this a sign of a tenacious deer, declaring that experienced hunters know the range of their guns and don't spoil possible shooting for somebody else by blazing away at birds they don't have a chance hitting."

Chief Warden H. W. MacKenzie of the Wisconsin conservation commission heartily seconded this appeal from experienced hunters and added information about the range of ordinary guns.

"It is an unusual shotgun that will carry a killing load further than 15 or at the most 16 rods," the chief said. "If more hunters knew this and would not shoot at sky-high ducks there would be much better hunting."

"Another thing that would make for better hunting is the general use of coarser shot. If all hunters use coarse shot, says No. 4, there would be more and cleaner kills and fewer cripples to crawl or swim away and die where they do no one good. Meat killed would be better, too, because it would not be riddled with shot."

WILSON SCHOOL ISSUES MONTHLY MAGAZINE

The "Wilsonian," Wilson Junior high school monthly publication, will be published for the first time this year this week. The paper, which is printed by members of the printing class at the school, will be put out this time by boys of last year's class who have volunteered to do the work until the beginning class in printing becomes proficient enough to accomplish the task.

Because last year's printing class completed the entire printing program in its first year, there will be no advanced class in printing at the Wilson school this year.

25 BOYS ENTERTAINED AT "Y" OPEN HOUSE

Your Question And Its Answer

By J. A. Panneck, D. C.

PALMER CHIROPRACTOR

QUESTION: I suffer from periodical headaches, also stomach trouble and have fever which interferes greatly with my work. Have been doctoring for years with no relief. Can you give me any hope? — E. R. B.

ANSWER: If any organ is abnormal in its function it is because the proper amount of nerve force is not being received by it through the nervous system. This force emanates from the brain and is distributed by the nerves to every tissue and organ in the body.

The only place that this transmission of energy can be interfered with is where the nerve trunks leave the spine between the vertebrae, where there are small openings on both sides, called foramina. Wherever these bones are out of normal position, the small openings or foramina are decreased in size, hence pressure upon the spinal nerves which lie in these openings is produced. It is this pinching of the nerves which decreases their capacity for the carrying of energy, hence an insufficient amount of nerve energy gets to the organ which these nerves supply. Knowing then that the primary cause of disease lies in the spine, the Chiropractor examines this structure for the misaligned vertebrae which are producing the nerve pressures responsible for the disease, and with his hands only, replaces these segments to their proper position. The releasing of spinal nerve pressure in this manner allows the kidneys, liver, stomach, bowels, bronchial tubes or whatever organs are affected, to resume normal function and in due time health is the natural result. Therefore, I suggest that you consult a competent Palmer Chiropractor for further information regarding your health problems.

QUESTION: What is this instrument you are using in your practice that patients say is so wonderful? — H. J. S.

ANSWER: This instrument is called the Neurocolumeter. It locates for us the impinged nerve, and then by our check reading after the adjustment is given it proves to us whether or not the adjustment was given scientifically and correctly. It leads us straight to the back, to the location of the impinged nerve, to the adjustment of the proper vertebrae and to the release of the impingement. It proves the science of Chiropractic to be correct. For your health appointment phone office 4319-W. Residence 4319-R. Office 215 W. College Avenue. Over State Lunch. 10 APPEALS LISTED FOR BOARD HEARING

Cases Will Be Considered Monday Night at Meeting at City Hall

Action on ten appeals from rulings of John Welland, building inspector, will be taken by the board of appeals at a meeting at 7:30 Monday evening in the council chambers at the city hall. Three appeals are new cases, while the rest were held over from the last meeting Sept. 10.

The new appeals were taken by Joseph L. Kuehl, who wants to build an addition to a garage at 209 S. Mason-st; William Burgholz, who wishes to construct a garage at 626 N. Superior-st; and Mrs. Helen Damscheuer, who is seeking to enclose a porch at her residence at 1514 N. Richmond-st.

Four of the remaining appeals were refused about a year ago by the board, but have been brought up again. Miss Ellen Young is appealing from the decision of the building inspector in refusing her a permit for the construction of a basement under her building. The other old cases include the appeals of Sario Baillet for a new garage at 620 N. Rankin-st; Mrs. A. Gehring, move garage at 416 S. State-st; P. G. Schwartz, new garage at 421 W. Sixth-st.

The three remaining appeals are: Ray Schreier, enclosing porch at 112 S. Mason-st; E. J. Walsh, move shoe repairing shop at 1315 N. Meade-st; and Outagamie Milk and Produce Co. construction of a creamery building on N. Mason-st.

Persons making the appeals must be present at the meeting; according to the building inspector. Absence from the meeting will prevent the board from making decisions on appeals.

Members of the board of appeals are Homer Benton, Freeman Johnson, I. J. Cameron, Edward O'Keefe, George Schmidt and John Welland.

To Be "Over the Top" by Armistice Day on Nov. 11
Is Aim of Committee

Efforts will be made by post members in charge of the membership drive to have the veterans renew allegiance to the organization and have the post "over the top" by Armistice day, Nov. 11. Bang! and Ducks are Out Again

Football isn't the only sport that draws its thousands when the bite of autumn chills off the ardor for summer sports. The duck hunters will be at it soon in legions and the hardy hunters will have to make room for the fair nimrods, who, in this day of virile feminism, can handle a gun as well as they can manipulate a golf club or a tennis racket. The army of hunters will be augmented by large numbers of the diamond. Here's a glimpse of a flock of ducks who were surprised at one of the northern lakes by two fair hunters.

Wild Duck Plentiful, Early Hunters Report

WILD ducks are plentiful this year, and hundreds of hunters have visited the marshes along the Fox river, Lake Winnebago, Poygan, and other local duck haunts since the season opened. Sept. 16, according to members of the local chapter of the Izaak Walton league. The sport is increasing in popularity each year and even the women have gotten the fever. In some sections of the country, college girls and a great number of married women wield the old shotgun and bang away at the various kinds of game. It looks as though in a few years from now the male will find himself at home mother will go a hunting and father can fry them in the pan.

The kind of ducks found in this county are called large ducks by hunters. It is claimed the ducks breed here and can be found scattered about in small numbers, throughout the year. In autumn they congregate in flocks along the shores of the various bodies of water, and offer themselves a target for hunters. A few mallards and canvas backs are among the kind which are prevalent in the marshes at the present time.

Within a few weeks the Canadian ducks which leave the marshes and waters in Canada, and northern Wisconsin and Michigan, will stop here for rest on their long flight to the southern haunts, according to local hunters. Mallards, canvas backs, teal, and blue bills offer choicest

TWIN CITY ELEVEN DROPS OPENER TO
TWO RIVERS, 25-0All-star Backfield of Victors Proves Too Much for Local Team

Menasha—Although going down to defeat, 25 to 0, before the Two Rivers-Manitowish football team at Recreation park Sunday afternoon, the Twin City gridders gave about 300 fans an exhibition of second home talent football. The visitors had an all-star backfield, including Red Evans and Danny Peppard, all-conference quarterback, and presented a championship lineup.

It was all due to the visitors heavy line and great work of the backs. Peppard being responsible for two touchdowns and a forward pass of 20 yards which netted another touchdown. Greenwood, a field runner of no mean ability, went over for the down.

The game started with driving power that fairly carried the home boys off their feet in the first period, carrying the ball down to Menasha's 12 yard line as the first period ended. A line smash netted 3 yards at the opening of the second period, and Greenwood smashed his touchdown on the next play. The try for the extra point went wide.

The Lake shore team then opened up with a forward passing game. Peppard sending away a 30 yard pass which was completed, an end going over the goal line, but the play was recalled, a visiting player being off-side.

DASHES 50 YARDS
Peppard then gave the fans something else to talk about by taking the ball on his own 20 yard line, reversing the field, and going 50 yards before being pulled down. The locals then held and took the ball on downs as the first half ended, the visitors holding a 6 to 0 lead.

It looked as if the locals were going to tie the score at the opening of the second period by taking the kickoff and running it back 20 yards; the locals then netted 10 more on a forward pass. Klutz was doing some fine line plunging for the home team, Johnson was circling the ends for nice gains and it was a great march while it lasted, but the march stopped on the visitors' 13 yard line.

Two Rivers was forced to kick out of danger, the ball rolling to Menasha's 10 yard line before being downed, the locals losing after a 10 yard gain on a fumble. Two Rivers carried the ball to Menasha's one-foot line as the third quarter ended.

Peppard went over for a touchdown on the first play of the last period. The kick for the extra point was good, the score going up to 13 to 0. Menasha was forced to kick, but Two Rivers was penalized 15 yards for roughness. Menasha lost the ball on downs in mid-field. Two Rivers was held for downs and Menasha kicked to the Two Rivers 5 yard line. Peppard made the catch, then shaking off three tacklers he raced 95 yards for a touchdown. The try for the extra point failed by inches. Evans intercepted a Menasha pass on his 40 yard line. A long pass by Peppard on the next play netted the final touchdown.

NEENAH GRIDDERS ARE DEFEATED BY
SHAWANO, 13 TO 12Extra Point from Kick After Touchdown Spells Disaster
for Locals

Neenah—Pounding through a weak spot in Neenah's front line and playing an excellent passing game, Shawano high school football team, playing its first conference game of the season, defeated Neenah high school here 13 to 12 Saturday afternoon.

Early in the game the red and whites looked like winners when Thermanston, playing at half back, got the ball on a pass and crossed the goal just one minute 15 seconds after the start of the game. A little later in the first quarter, Schneller, captain, playing end, intercepted a pass and added six more points to the score for his team but failed to kick goal both times.

Shawano secured their touchdowns in the second and third quarters. Soussick, right-half, taking the ball over both times and Reed, left-half, making the extra and winning point with a kick. Shawano's points were made on excellent passing after the Neenah team had been forced back to within a few yards from its goal. Once the third period, Gaertner, a t-r sprinter for 30 yards, closely followed by a trio of Shawano players, got the ball over the line to what seemed to be a touchdown and was reversed by his referee who afterwards recalled his decision.

Shawano has a team of big huskies, trained to excellency in passing and blocking. Neenah had the edge on long runs as on several occasions local players got away for 40 yards before being downed.

Coach Jorgenson, from his squad of 60 men, started the game with Beisenstein at center; Ehlers and Hall, guards; Schneller and L. Neubauer, ends; Thermanston and Gaertner at half positions; Gallmeier, quarterback; S. Neubauer and Nye at tackles; and Shea at full. Blomkjaer, Hahl, Jensen went in for Thermanston, Grogan replaced Gallmeier and Hahl went in for Shea.

Shawano's line had Schuitel and Jung at ends; Mallman and Rasmussen, tackles; Ben and Krietzler, guards; Sanderson, captain and center; Reed and Soussick, half-backs; Wege, quarterback and Kenote, fullback. Two changes were made in the line-up when Mallman was injured and his place taken by Dorry and Bartels replaced Krietzler.

Pickett of Appleton was referee, Armin Gerhardt, umpire; Gwilym Owen, linesman and W. Haase, time-keeper.

The Neenah team will go to Oconto next Saturday afternoon to play the team of that high school.

How To Play Bridge

BY Milton C. Work

Continuing our discussion of No. Trump take-outs, we find that when made conventionally they afford the opportunity for the interchange of much valuable information. The conversation between the two partners may be carried on with great accuracy, the bids meaning as follows: The original No. Trump states: "I have at least three suits stopped and a hand which counts at least 11, probably more, upon the basis of Ace 4, King 2, Queen 2 and Jack 1." The partner of the No. Trump who bids two of a Major suit and in it or on the side, or both, I have considerable help for your No. Trump. Look at your cards again and decide whether to try for game at my bid, or go back to your No. Trump. I am extending to you an option to let me play at the Major if it seem to you that the game is more probable that way, or to rebid the No. Trump if that seem to you to be the wiser procedure. You know, I do not, which is the more apt to "make game." If, after his No. Trump has been taken out by his partner with a Major suit, the No. Trump rebid his No. Trump; he is saying to his partner: "I am satisfied that game can be made more easily at the No. Trump than at the Major." If the No. Trump pass his partner's Major suit bid, he is saying to the partner: "I believe we will do better with your suit the trump than at No. Trump."

DISARMAMENT REJECTED
President Coolidge has bluntly rejected American participation in disarmament, with the Anglo-French naval compromise agreement as a basis. In identical notes to the foreign offices of London and Paris, he has called attention to the glaring disadvantages to which this understanding places the United States. What he says is obviously true, namely—that the Anglo-French agreement limits construction of those ships of particular value to a nation like the United States and permits the unlimited construction of vessels of special value to them and useless to this country.

This is not the way to approach disarmament. It was the precise reason why the conference at Geneva last year was a dismal failure. World opinion in the main has placed the responsibility for that failure on Great Britain. Many of her eminent statesmen and some of her military leaders have acknowledged the responsibility. The present American note says that the position we now find ourselves in with reference to a joint disarmament treaty with France and England, because of their private understanding, is even more unacceptable than it was at Geneva, not only because it is grossly unfair to the United States, but because it "discards altogether the principle of limitation as applied to important types of vessels."

It should be obvious to Americans that neither Great Britain nor France, and particularly the former, is in the mood to consider bonafide disarmament. If Great Britain expects to emerge from naval reduction with top-heavy superiority over the United States, she has greatly deceived herself. Public opinion here would not permit it even if the government was so disposed, which it is not. Deplorable as it would be, it may be necessary for us to outbuild the British. It might in the long run be the cheapest, as it certainly would be a potent means to bring about general disarmament. Unless London is prepared to recede from its prejudiced and illogical attitude the whole subject may as well be dropped, for this country unquestionably will uphold the policy of President Coolidge. However, the responsibility for a prolongation of burdensome and unnecessary armaments is one that no single nation can long sustain, not even a great sea power with a far-flung empire like Great Britain.

ROUNDABOUT
Chicago is about to try some of its Sicilian population for kidnapping, an offense punishable by death under the laws of Illinois. But those who wax fat upon the profits of terrorism are not frightened at the death penalty, because penalties are usually a joke in Illinois. They are only concerned that they must spend some of their ill-gotten gains in employing criminal lawyers to bribe and terrorize witnesses, jurors and influence judges. For Illinois still elects judges because they happen to be Democrats or Republicans and so often without the necessary attention to the high qualifications essential in judicial positions. And the laws of Illinois still permit weeks of dilly-dallying in the selection of jurors, the excusing of the intelligent from service and the selection of the least qualified for any kind of public service, a very important part of which public service is jury service.

These cases have another important feature, showing as they do the still prevalent tendency of our immigrants from certain southern parts of Europe to congregate in the great cities and cling tenaciously to the customs and languages and vices as well of their homeland. They serve to emphasize the wisdom of our recent immigration laws and help to teach us that instead of removing barriers to immigration we may improve our own situation by erecting further ones. Yet, were these immigrants taught by actual experience that the delivery of their votes to a ward heeler or mayor would not get them the right to twist out of the law's demands, there would be less difficulty in handling them once they were here.

Mussolini made short shrift of the Mafia in Sicily. That is one virtue that all should willingly concede him.

THE EXPLORATION URGE
"Why do scientists go again and again to the frozen North and South and spend weary months in seeking to reveal some of the secrets of these mysterious regions?" asks Commander Byrd, as he leaves for his great researches in the Antarctic. Well, one might answer, why do men of physical or mental energy do anything hard, in the form of exploration and adventure? Byrd gives his own answer in memorable words:

Men do these things because they are men; because in the unknown there is a ceaseless challenge to man's curiosity, to his ever-expanding fund of knowledge. While anything is to be learned of this earth of ours, of its form, its history, its strange forces, men will be found who will not rest until that knowledge is complete.

Some men invent things which add to the comfort of life, some delve into the secrets of nature in laboratories that we may have better electric lights and better food and machines which heal our bodies. Some men explore unknown lands and seek to solve in their riddles of nature, that we may have a more complete and nobler comprehension of our world.

The mere fact that on this earth of ours is a region larger than our own country of which nothing is known is a sufficient motive for our trip.

It is an enlarged, socialized version of the philosophy of Kipling's simple hero with the wanderlust: "For to admire and for to see, for to behold this world so wide."

FOREIGN LOANS AND EXPORTS
"It is a significant fact," says a review of financial and industrial conditions, "that the $11,000,000,000 of foreign securities sold in the United States in the years 1919-1927 almost exactly balance the difference between the $47,000,000,000 of exports and the $37,000,000,000 of imports during the same period."

Apparently the American money that goes abroad in loans is used indirectly in buying American goods. The fear that some people express, that such money helps foreigners to compete with American industry, is shown as not well founded by the fact that comparatively few American foreign investments represent enterprises that are competitive with concerns here. Instead it goes mostly to public utilities, to railways, to banking and credit companies, to pulp and paper companies, to mining enterprises and to oil companies.

It might be argued, of course, that American money spent on such enterprises releases foreign money to enterprises that may really compete with American industry. That would carry quibbling and fear pretty far. The long view, and probably the true view, is that we stand to profit by wise investment abroad and that the prosperity of this country is closely linked with the prosperity of other countries.

SPEED OF LIGHT
Prof. Albert A. Michelson of Chicago, after new experiments in California, announces that the speed of light has been definitely ascertained at last. It is 186,284 miles a second. Call it 186,000 miles even. That is easier to remember. And it is the fastest speed there is, although electricity in a race across the universe might do about as well. Anyway, it is satisfactory. It will probably be quite a while before any of our motorists, speedboaters or aviators beat that record.

FOOD FOR BABIES
Calcium, Vitamins, Exercise
Sterilizing, boiling, cooking, pasteurizing (par boiling), preserving, storing and manipulating (manufacturing) or "purifying" natural foods impairs or destroys the essential vitamins. Hence it is important that babies fed largely on sterilized, boiled or pasteurized milk be given a daily ration of fresh raw fruit or vegetable juice or pulp. Tomato juice is one of the best things, but any fresh fruit juice or any fresh raw vegetable juice is effective. These foods contain the vitamin that prevents scurvy. Even canned tomato retains most of its vitamin, if it is canned by the vacuum process. All canning factories use this process now; some home canning processes achieve the same result—the preservation of the FRESH tomato without boiling it in contact with the air. All mothers should know that in a few weeks old may be given any fresh raw fruit juice that is wholesome for adults, and any juice that can be squeezed out of any fresh vegetable in the raw state, especially lettuce or green vegetables such as cabbage, greens, peas, beans, spinach, asparagus, cucumbers.

Just how early it may be wise to begin to feed the baby the pulp of the fruit or vegetable is a question I hesitate to try to answer definitely. Notwithstanding the notions of old time infant specialists, I believe in good scientific practice as well as common sense to give the baby food to chew as soon as the baby has teeth to chew with. By this rule, most infants will be content with the clear juice of fruit or vegetable for the first five months of life. After that, it is wise, I think, to begin feeding the infant a small amount of the fruit or vegetable pulp daily, after the pulp has been run through a colander or coarse sieve. If the mother fears that the baby can't "digest" such fruit or vegetable pulp in the raw state, let her cook the fruit or vegetable a little first, and after a few weeks try giving some raw. I believe it is just as healthful and as safe to give a baby 6 or 8 months old a clean raw carrot to suck or gnaw on as it is for the little pickinies to suck raw sugar cane—and they thrive on it. Some babies prefer raw potatoes, or raw turnip. Older children often crave these items of raw food and are too often denied the very thing they need.

Older children—2 to 6 years old—should have some kind of fresh raw vegetables to eat daily. If the child does not crave the whole vegetable (well washed but not peeled), then let mother chop, grate or mash the vegetable up and concoct some kind of dish with it to appeal to the child's taste. I think all vegetables or fruit to be consumed in the whole raw state should be first thoroughly washed with soap and water, rinsed well to remove any trace of soapy taste, and served entire.

Besides providing essential vitamins, such raw food provides an adequate calcium (lime) ration and other necessary mineral elements, wholesome bulk in the digestive organs and most important of all valuable exercise for the jaws (a recognized factor in the development of sound teeth and gums) and for the muscle of digestion and the muscle of excretion.

In short, observation, study and experience lead me to the conviction that raw vegetables and fruits are regular food for regular children.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
No Beer for Children
Doctors have recommended home made beer for a woman who has a run down condition caused from tuberculosis. This lady allows her 3 year old daughter to drink it too. Is it in any way harmful for either of them? (Mrs. L. B.)
Answer—Certainly it is harmful for the child. Only a doctor can decide whether it is harmful for the parent.

Gumming the Game
Should an athlete in training eat candy or chew gum? I have heard it is hard on the wind. I am 17 years old, and eat candy moderately, and would like very much to know whether it is bad for the wind. (M. W. B.)

Answer—I do not believe the gum chewing has any such effect, though a well trained athlete ought to have better control of his "nerves" than a gum chewing individual has. Athletes may have a fairly liberal ration of good candy—sugar is rather a help to the "wind." Athletic young persons may consume candy and other sweets in greater quantity than inactive young persons can, because their muscular exertion quickly burns up this fuel.

LIBRARY ADVENTURES

By Arnold Mulder

THE OFFICIAL PAPERS OF "AL" SMITH

A new book has just appeared on the scene that will give anybody who does not trust partisan and prejudiced reports about Gov. Alfred E. Smith such as float around in any political campaign a chance to judge the man for himself. The book is none other than a selection of the state papers and speeches of the New York governor, covering the greater part of his political life.

The book, which is published by Harcourt, Brace & Co. is called "Progressive Democracy." It is an impressive volume of about 400 pages edited by Henry Moskowitz. The great merit of the collection is that the editor has intruded himself upon the reader as little as possible. His purpose evidently was to let the Democratic nominee speak for himself. In the case of each speech and state paper it was of course necessary to give the setting in a few words but in all cases the editor has confined himself to bald explanations. The book of course is obviously meant to win votes for Smith but in a highly legitimate way, by showing through his own speeches that he is of presidential calibre, not by spilling political palaver over him.

The volume recalls a similar book published during the first campaign of Woodrow Wilson. That volume was called "The New Democracy." From a literary point of view there is no comparison. Woodrow Wilson was a graceful essayist with a style that commanded attention for its own sake. Governor Smith himself would probably disagree here. His distinction, his state papers as collected in this volume have force and that is probably worth more than all other considerations put together in the speeches and papers of a public man. At least it would be worth more to the American people, if he should be elected, than a graceful style. For that matter, Herbert Hoover's public documents are also lacking in literary style.

Both Hoover and Smith are practical men of affairs, not literary lights. The present volume is useful and worthy of respect because it aims to present Gov. Smith as he is, not as his strong friends or bitter enemies paint him. It gives a fair selection, for instance, of his typical campaign speeches. Many of the speeches probably have been lost through their timeliness, representing battles that were lost or won long ago. But the spirit of the man shines through them. The voter who wants to become acquainted with the real Smith and his political

A. The oath of office of governor as prescribed in the Constitution of the State of New York, Article XIII, Section 1, is: "I do solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of New York, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office of Governor according to the best of my ability. And I do further solemnly swear, that I have not directly or indirectly paid, offered or promised to pay, contributed, or offered or promised to contribute, any money or other valuable thing as a consideration or reward for the giving or withholding of a vote at the election at which I was elected to said office, and have not made any promise to influence the giving or withholding of any such vote." The oath of office as prescribed in the Constitution of the United States, Article II, Section 7, is: "I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States, and will to the best of my ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States."

Q. How many are engaged as professional social workers in the United States? K. C. C.

A. The Russell Sage Foundation estimates that there are 25,000 persons so engaged, exclusive of visiting nurses of whom there may be that many more, and the numerous border-line groups of clerks, caretakers, and so forth.

Q. How should mildewed books be treated? E. H.

A. The Library of Congress says that if the mildew is still damp, sponge it off with vinegar, or with water containing some vinegar. If the mildew is dry, it can be wiped off with a dry cloth. If stains are left, alcohol will probably remove them. The books should then be placed in a strong sunlight, in a current of dry air, or the room containing them warmed and dried by an application of heat.

APPLETON BOY DIES
IN HUNT ACCIDENT

Scandinavia, his former home, where it is expected burial services will be held.

Struck by one car and then run over by a second machine about 8 o'clock Sunday evening, J. H. Bremmle, New London, is in a serious condition in the County hospital. Three ribs on his left side were broken, one puncturing the lung and muscles of both legs were badly crushed and he is lamed and cut about the body.

Mr. Bremmle was crossing N. Water-st. when he was struck by a car driven by Jake Werner of New London and a moment later a second car, driven by J. A. Tilley, manager of a local hotel, passed over his body. Both drivers stopped and assisted in taking the injured man to a hospital.

By the Associated Press.
Traffic accidents over the weekend took a toll of at least eleven lives in Wisconsin. Another person was probably totally injured.

Three members of a family were killed and a fourth was injured Sunday night when their auto crashed into the side of a Milwaukee road passenger train in South Milwaukee. The dead are: Gustave Scholke of West Allis, his wife, Margaret, and their son, Ervin, 11. A daughter, Elsie, 13 was seriously injured.

Dick May 70, of Milwaukee, was killed Sunday night when he was struck by two automobiles. He is said to have stepped out behind a parked car and into the side of one driven by Dr. Charles Hochbeier, of Milwaukee. Then an auto bearing an Illinois license ran over him as he was thrown in the pavement. The Illinois driver did not stop.

George Lauer, 19, died in a Milwaukee hospital Sunday from injuries received earlier in the week in an auto collision.

ON WAY TO GAME
Two youths enroute to a football game at Elkhorn, Wis., were killed when their car overturned. They are Leo Brooks, son of Prof. R. J. Brooks of Whitewater teachers college, and Vernon Peterson, 19, of Whitewater. Others who were injured in the crash were Henry Meyers, 21, Kenosha; Earl Harop, 16, Kenosha; Joseph Dietz, 16, Whitewater; Phillip and William Dendey Whitewater, and Harland Burgett, 18, Whitewater.

Jacob Edwin, 69, president of the Bloomington fair, received injuries which are expected to prove fatal when he was run down on the street here by a nonstop driver. The machine was later found abandoned on a highway near here.

When, according to witnesses, she hesitated while crossing the street near her home, Mrs. Mary Ziller, 56, of Milwaukee, was killed Monday morning. She stopped and turned back when in the middle of the street apparently having forgotten something or becoming afraid of the traffic. The driver was questioned but refused.

Carl Hussenhus, 21, of Wausau, died there Monday morning, 25 hours after he suffered a fractured skull in an automobile accident in the town of Frankfort near that city. The driver of the car could not see a turn in the road because of fog and his car went into a stone fence. A girl companion is believed to have sustained a fracture of the skull and is in a hospital.

Sylvester Orth of Kenosha, died Monday in St. Mary hospital in Racine of injuries received when his auto was in collision with an Illinois 44 with one driven by Aaron Selmann of North Milwaukee Sunday. Both legs were fractured and he was badly cut and bruised, but cause of his death has not been established.

COUNTY

KAUKAUNA-LITTLE CHUTE-KIMBERLY

NEARBY
TOWNSHIGH SCHOOL GRID
SQUAD TURNS BACK
OCONTO BY 18 TO 6Orange and Black Warriors
Hold Upper Hand in Three Quarters

Kaukauna—Coached by Elmer Ott, captain of the Kaukauna high school football squad in 1923 and a graduate of the school, the Orange and Black warriors Saturday afternoon defeated the Oconto high school eleven at the local grid field by a score of 18 to 6.

This was the first game to be played under Coach Ott, who graduated from Lawrence college last year, and the boys showed promise of repeating their win of the Northwestern Wisconsin Interscholastic league pennant, which they captured last year.

The Ottmen outplayed Oconto during the first third and fourth quarters while the upstate men sprang to life in the second quarter and succeeded in pushing over a marker after a series of passes which baffled the local players.

Several times the Oconto men had the pigskin within 10 yards of the goal posts but lacked the punch to put it over. Doering and Ferguson came at the end, Casey looked good at quarter after the first quarter. He carried the ball for a touchdown in the last quarter. Both Luedtke and Esler, backs, broke away several times from the Oconto team for gains of about 20 yards. VanLieshout played a fine game as guard.

Ed Vandenbush, right half back for Oconto, was the only man on that team that could find a hole in the Kau defense. Time after time he went through the team for good gains. K. Cashman, the other Oconto halfback, was the principal factor in Oconto's successful aerial attack. He threw long passes for six yards. VanLieshout missed the extra point.

Oconto kicked off to Kaukauna, which started a steady march up the field. After taking the ball to the five-yard line a fumble by Casey lost them their first chance to score. Oconto punted, and after a smashing attack Miller took the pigskin over for six yards. VanLieshout missed the extra point.

TIE AT HALF
Oconto launched a successful aerial attack in the second quarter. They got the ball within the 10 yard line with four downs to go. They succeeded in taking the pigskin to the one yard line. Kaukauna punted and Oconto started another drive for the goal line, which ended in a successful scoring of six points. The extra point was missed. The half ended in a 6 to 6 tie.

Kaukauna opened the third quarter with a series of end runs. Miller again scored a touchdown. The extra point was missed. After netting a gain for 15 yards on a penalty Doering took the pigskin for a gain of 25 yards. In the last quarter Kaukauna again received a gain of 15 yards on a penalty and after a series of short plunges Casey took it over for another six points. Miller missed the extra point. The game ended Kaukauna 18, Oconto 6.

OFFER NEW MUSIC
COURSE AT SCHOOL
Purpose of Study Is to Develop Appreciation of Fine Music

Kaukauna—History and Appreciation of Music is a new course introduced into the high school this year. The purpose of the course is to develop an intellectual understanding and appreciation of fine music.

The course is being given by Miss Eleanor Wooster, music teacher and originator of the course. The course covers two semesters, and one credit is given for it. The credit is recognized as an entry credit to the University of Wisconsin. It is being used by several other schools this year and many are using the course as a basis for a similar course.

The course in the library. The University of Wisconsin in book form, Miss Wooster wrote it as her thesis while attending the University of Wisconsin.

It gives students who cannot enter the glee club or orchestra a chance to study music, even though he cannot sing or play. Several books dealing with that study have been purchased by the high school.

The introduction of the course is intended to give a solid background by a graphic study of paintings, poems, pictures, and architecture with which the student is more familiar. A study is then made of primeval music and followed down through the periods of music and history. The conclusion of the course comes after a study of the Symphony Orchestra and Opera.

LEGION ELEVEN AND DEPERE BATTLE TO TIE; SCORE IS 6-6Both Sides Do Scoring in Second Quarter, but Neither Kicks Goal

Kaukauna—Kaukauna's American Legion football team played the De Pere football team to a 6 to 6 tie before a large crowd of fans at the local football field Sunday afternoon. Both sides scored in the second quarter. Kaukauna scored first when Donner end, grabbed a blocked punt and sprinted 30 yards for a touchdown. De Pere scored after a series of passes and line plunges.

The game was slow for the most part and there were frequent fumbles by both sides. In the latter part of the second quarter Hovde received a pass from Kilgas and ran about 25 yards to the goal posts. A Kaukauna man received a 25 yard penalty for clipping, and lost the ball, making the touchdown invalid. Engerson, fullback, started in the local backfield. He gave a fine exhibition of running, passing and tackling. Donner played a good game at end, grabbing many passes for long gains and getting many tackles. Olin, tackle, and Regenfus, guard, also played well in the line.

De Pere's fullback, Goman, did the most gaining for that team. He carried the ball for successive gains through the Kaw line and scored the touchdown for De Pere. A. Gage and L. Dillen were the bright spots in the De Pere line. Toner at right half played a fine offensive game. Both teams were slow in calling signals, and De Pere was penalized for stalling.

KAUKAUNA KICKS OFF
Kaukauna kicked off to De Pere to start the game. They punted and Kilgas passed to Donner to get the ball on the 5 yard line. After a series of plunges, Kaukauna failed to score. Most of the quarter was played in the center of the field. Neither side gained or lost much ground.

Right after the start of the second quarter the Kawmen blocked a punt and Donner kicked it up to run for 20 yards for a touchdown. Kilgas missed the extra point. Kaukauna kicked off to De Pere and after an aerial attack and a few plunges, Goman, smashed through the line for six points. Both teams tried passing. Kilgas passed to Hovde who ran to the goal posts, but as a Kaukauna player was caught clipping, Kaukauna was penalized and lost the ball and the score didn't count. The half ended with the ball in the center of the field. Kaukauna had the edge on the De Pere crew during the first half.

Kaukauna opened the second half by kicking up to the river team. Neither team could score although De Pere kept the ball in Kaukauna's territory most of the time. Passing was used frequently by both teams during the quarter. The game was slow and ragged play was frequent. The last quarter was also slow.

The ball was in the center of the field most of the time. Near the end of the quarter Hovde threw a 35 yard pass to Miller for a 40 yard gain. They lost the ball on the next play, however, and threats to score on either side were ended.

RATS IMPERIL CHILD
Adena, O.—Mothers in towns near idle coal mines are seriously alarmed since 1-year-old Betty Siekle was attacked by rats while asleep in her bed. Lack of refuse in the mines is forcing the rodents to the surface and into the homes, and mothers are taking precautions to protect their babies. Baby Betty suffered nine lacerations and the flesh was eaten from her knuckles to the bone before cries of the protesting infant alarmed the household.

CLAY KEPT JACKSON FROM PRESIDENCY IN ELECTION OF 1824

Speaker of House Called "Judas of West" by De-feated "Old Hickory"

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The rise of the star of Andrew Jackson in American politics is begun in this chapter of "The Presidential Parade," Rodney Dutcher's series on presidential campaigns from the day of Washington down to the present.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Copyright, 1928, by Post Pub. Co.
Washington—"That Judas of the West," said Gen. Andrew Jackson as Henry Clay deprived him of the presidency in 1824, "has closed the contract and will receive his 30 pieces of silver."

The election had been thrown into the house of representatives when none of four candidates obtained a majority of the electoral votes, though Jackson was out in front both with popular and electoral ballots. Clay, speaker of the house, ran fourth and was not considered by the house. He influenced the congressmen from three states to swing to Secretary of State John Quincy Adams, who was chosen.

Jackson followers let out a protesting whoop from the gallery as the result was announced and the galleries were cleared.

"CORRUPT BARGAIN"

Clay had said that he didn't believe "the killing of 2500 Englishmen qualifies for the various difficult and complicated duties of the chief magistracy," but when Adams made him secretary of state, the appointment was accepted by Jackson and many others as evidence of a "corrupt bargain" which became the big issue of the next campaign.

Presidentially speaking, Clay was given a bridesmaid but never a bride. In this class also were Senators "Jack Dan" Webster of Massachusetts and John C. Calhoun of South Carolina, two other giants of the period.

The 1824 campaign broke down the old system of nominating presidents by congressional caucus and opened the way for today's nominating conventions. Only one party existed and Monroe's retirement, ending the Virginia dynasty which had held the presidency for 32 of 36 years, brought on a free-for-all scramble for the White House. It was known as the "Period of Personal Politics."

At one time 16 candidates were counted, but those who received electoral votes were:

"Old Hickory" Jackson of Tennessee, hero of the Battle of New Orleans. A born leader, honest and loyal but ruthless toward his enemies. Man of the people, neither cultured nor scholarly, he was devoted to the masses which idolized him and his courage and character made him one of the strongest figures in our political history.

THE QUALITIES OF CLAY

Clay of Kentucky, "the Mill Boy of the Slashes." Another popular idol, a marvelous orator with astonishing influence over his audiences. Domineering and high-handed, an inveterate gambler and a heavy drinker in a heavy drinking age, yet patriotic, brilliant, resourceful and ambitious. Calhoun once said: "I don't like Clay. He is a bad man, an impostor, I won't speak to him, but, by God, I love him."

John Quincy Adams, later known in Congress as "Old Man Eloquent," was a patrician of great mind and vision, but puritanical, intolerant and unable to descend to the practical political methods of the Jacksonians. Adams strongly opposed looting of the public lands and clearly foresaw the Civil war over slavery.

Secretary of the Treasury William H. Crawford of Georgia, an able and honest statesman, was nearly nominated over Monroe in 1816 despite his refusal to be a candidate.

Their Fight Was Bitter

Henry Clay, arch foe of Jackson and a brilliant orator, is pictured at the left. Jackson is shown to the right and below is John Quincy Adams.

With these personalities stood Calhoun until he dropped out of the presidential race to run successfully for vice president. He was another brilliant orator, an unscrupulous intellectual giant—a bad man for an enemy. Like Clay, he waged bitter war on Jackson and lost.

CRAWFORD VINDICATED

Crawford, choice of Monroe and Jefferson, was vindicated during the campaign of charges of official misconduct inspired for campaign purposes by Calhoun. Shortly before the congressional caucus, Crawford had a paralytic stroke which hurt his chances. It was Crawford against the field and the field won. Only 68 of 281 members of Congress gathered to nominate him and Clay, Calhoun, Adams and Jackson joined in a great outcry against the "usurping" caucus system.

Up to this time, the presidency had been held by patriotic patriots who had passed it around among themselves. Enfranchisement of the masses of unpropertied men had progressed rapidly, but not sufficiently to allow the common people to run elections for themselves. Now, however, they were voting in enough numbers to respond enthusiastically to the anti-caucus movement. The day of the Fathers and their control was over.

A few state nominating conventions were held, some in legislatures, to nominate the anti-Crawford candidates. Straw votes were held everywhere—on passenger steamboats, in grand jury rooms, militia companies and so on, with the newspapers publishing the results. In Boston, Adams was a 4 to 1 shot in the betting. Attacks on the caucus ticket were so bitter that Albert Gallatin, Crawford's running mate for vice president, withdrew a week before election.

The first compilation of a popular vote was made in that year. It stood:

	Popular	Electoral
Jackson	153,000	99
Adams	114,000	84
Crawford	47,000	41
Clay	47,200	37

The pro-Jackson masses raged when the House gave the election to Adams. Congressmen from the three western states swung to Adams by Clay were voted out of office in the next biennial poll, for the westerners had no use for Adams, the New Englander. If the will of the people had been defied, as was charged, the people were to take their real revenge in 1828 when they broke the line of succession of Virginia and Massachusetts patriots, consisting mostly of vice

DRAIN SMALL LAKE TO MAKE WAY FOR ROAD

Crystal lake, at the southern out-skirts of Waupun, which is to be spanned by a steel bridge has been completely drained according to local construction men. The lake was emptied by opening the dams of the Crystal river and with electric pumps. The work was done by the Vogt-Mengel company of Wisconsin Rapids.

Arthur Tie, Shawano game warden was sent to the scene where work was in progress by the state conservation commission to take care of fish which were caught in small pools after the lake was dry. A few northern pike and pickerel were taken from the lake bottom, but the small remaining pools in the river and the suckers were disposed of.

Construction work on the bridge will start immediately.

"Fazil," one of the most colorful productions ever launched by Fox Films is now at the Elite Theatre.

This is the screen version of the play, "L'Insoumise," by Pierre Frondaie, which created an international sensation.

Much of the action centers in Venice, Paris and on the Arabian desert. Magnificent sets, including a huge ballroom and reproductions of the famous canals, were especially designed and constructed for this lavish production.

Greta Nissen and Charles Farrell play the leading romantic roles in this intensely dramatic story of an Arabian lover and his beautiful blonde sweetheart. In addition to Miss Nissen and Mr. Farrell, the cast includes Mae Busch, Myrna Loy, Vadim Uraneff, George Stone and Tyler Brooke.

TOMORROW: Jackson emerges from scandals heaped upon him and is elected president.

every sailor from the skipper on down, looks forward to shore leave. To meet the fleet, and to drum up trade, the Roseland Dance Hall management has sent down its band and hostesses to give the gobs the glad hand when they are sent ashore. The girls are headed by Peachy Deane (Clara Bow) who becomes the center of a rivalry between Eddie Briggs (James Hall) and Doyle (Jack Oakie). Eddie is the self-styled shark of the U. S. S. California, while Doyle boasts of a girl in every port. Doyle vows that Peachy will wear his ring.

Peachy spins the cocky Eddie at the dancehall that night, and gives her dances to Doyle. There is a moonlight waltz, and Eddie cuts in with Peachy, finishing the dance with him. A prize dance is given with Peachy and Eddie winning the prize cup for being the best couple on the floor. Still this does not win Peachy over, so Eddie fakes a fight with a dumb friend of his, so he can be Peachy's hero!

Peachy now begins to like him, and allows him to take her home. Eddie gets fresh, however, so Peachy gives him the "rate." Back on the ship, Eddie realizes he loves Peachy. He receives punishment for over-staying his leave.

Meanwhile Peachy and Doyle gad around together. Peachy vamps Doyle to give her his ring. Doyle falls.

Eddie comes ashore and at the dance hall sees Peachy wearing the ring. He takes a sock at Doyle, which starts a sailors' free-for-all fight. Eddie is arrested. He refuses to listen to Peachy. She follows him to jail.

At the trial, Peachy takes all blame for the fight, winning over Eddie.

As the fleet steams out, Eddie from the bridge of the California wags to Peachy the cruise will be over soon and he will be back to his red-headed bride-to-be.

Lawrence Loses Initial Game To Teachers 6 And 0

Vikings Show Power But Still Lack Experience

Carry Ball Into Normal Territory Twice Only To Lose on Fumble and Downs

Just a bit of do-or-die spirit that prompted Fischl to attempt a punt when blocked by two Oshkosh linemen, rather than downing the ball and giving it up on his own 30 yard line, cost Lawrence college football team the first game of the season here Saturday afternoon. For when the youngster attempted his boot the ball was knocked from his hands and scooped up by Williams, teachers college guard, and he scampered to a touchdown. The try for point failed and the teachers went home with a 6 to 0 victory.

Had Fischl downed the ball it was more than probable that the Vikings line would have held and no damaged resulted. But why talk about water that's already down the river—the Vikings played a whale of a game for their first fracas and they'll be heard from often before the season's over.

The big Blues received a taste of most everything in the book and except for the one big break arose to every occasion like veterans. They fumbled at several crucial moments, once far within their own territory; they saw one of their passes intercepted and the runner reef off 25 yards; they saw themselves penalized nearly 50 yards during the game and never once did they fail to stage a comeback or arise to the situations and beat down an attack.

Aside from bum things they saw, however, they found how easy it is to block if taught how to do it right; they saw their backs reef off yard after yard behind perfect interference; they saw their ends smear play after play although almost carried out of position by the more experienced teachers and they should have seen that within one week or two they will have one of the best football squads that ever stepped out in a Blue uniform.

Although the figures are on the wrong side the ledger the outcome is almost a victory to many of the Viking supporters for they were ill at ease when the game started and expected a sound trouncing. A scoreless tie as the game should have been would have been a tremendous victory.

It didn't take long after the opening kickoff when the Vikings received to show the team has splendid possibilities. Time after time the boys crashed off tackle behind perfect interference although it was noticeable that only Bartell felt noticeably at ease. The rest of the gang will come through with a little more practice.

Finally the ball had to go to the normal and the great test came. The question was could the Vikings hold against a vicious attack and they did. The followers of this particular thing had long been a question for most of the two week's practice had been on offensive tactics and fundamentals.

The summary of activities shows the Vikings making seven first downs to their opponents two but lost considerable yardage through penalties, three for being offside, one for delaying the game and two for holding—and it's a mighty hefty penalty for the latter count.

Only in one department did there appear to be a lamentable weakness forward passing. There appears to be no one on the team who can sail a pass on a line and know where it's going. The team also seemed weak on punting, losing a few yards on every exchange until Trankle went into the game. He either had exceptional luck or has been hiding his ability for the last two weeks for he got off several husky boots.

Lawrence showed its strength soon after the opening whistle when off tackle plays carried them down the field only to lose the ball on downs or by punting when within enemy territory. The furthest the Vikings approached in the first half was the 25 yard line when Fischl returned a punt from mid field. Here, however, they lost the ball on a fumble.

Early in the third quarter the team also went far into Oshkosh territory. Rasmussen reeling off a 30 yard gallop and apparently headed for a touchdown when he ran a foul the normal safety. Here the Vikings again lost possession of the ball through inexperienced calling of plays.

The past period of the game was featured by exchanges of punts and an attempt at a few passes on the part of the Vikings. However, their ability in this mode of warfare still is limited and they accomplished nothing.

EAST GREEN BAY WINS FROM STURGEON BAY, 66-0

Again the specter of East Green Bay high school football team crushing all before it arises to shatter the morale of other Valley conference teams. Saturday afternoon the Bays went out and ran rough shot over Sturgeon Bay scoring 66 points and holding their opponents scoreless.

Secor, flashy little backfielder, made five counters singled handed while the Becker boys came in for a couple as dead others of the East aggregation. Passes and line plunges with sweeping end runs accounted for the touchdowns.

West high lost to Manitowish, however, 12 and 0, the Shipmachers scoring early in the game on a fumbled punt.

The Play McGraw is Protesting

Here's a remarkable action photograph of the play in the first game of the recent double-header between the Giants and Cubs, which the Cubs won and which John McGraw seeking to have thrown out because of the play depicted here. McGraw claims Hartnett interfered with the attempt of Andy Reese to score from third base in the sixth inning and that this interference enabled Clyde Beck, Cub third baseman, to tag

Reese out. Note in the photograph how far away from the base-line Reese was forced Umpire Klem, it seems, was a bit away from the play.

Ring Down Curtain On Major League Baseball

The major league drama is done for another season but the Yankees and the Cardinals still have an epilogue to offer. They meet in the world's series starting at New York on Thursday and ending when one team has won four games.

With both pennant campaigns already decided, there was not much to interest the baseball fan in Sunday's closing engagements. Most of the game's faithful stayed away in large numbers, some of them, no doubt, resting up for the excitement that is to come later this week.

With a $2,000 bonus as incentive, Waite Hoyt, right handed ace of Miller Huggins' Yankees, pitched the American league champions to a 7 to 6 victory over the Detroit Tigers. Hoyt had been promised "two grand" as they say in the very best pugilistic circles, if he won 22 games this year. He was cuffed about rather freely by the Tigers but won his reward with the aid of Babe Ruth's fifty-fourth and Lou Gehrig's twenty-seventh home runs. Already badly crippled, the Yankees narrowly escaped losing Gehrig's series for the world's series when the big first baseman was struck in the face by a batted ball in the seventh. He collapsed but recovered sufficiently to walk off the field.

The Philadelphia Athletics finished the season two and a half games back of the Yanks when they were thrown for a loss by the Chicago White Sox in General and Bob Welland, a rookie pitcher from the Mississippi valley league in particular, badly crippled the Yankees narrowly escaped losing Gehrig's series for the world's series when the big first baseman was struck in the face by a batted ball in the seventh. He collapsed but recovered sufficiently to walk off the field.

PACKERS AND BEARS PLAY 12 TO 12 TIE

Green Bay Team Trails in First Half But Comes to Life in Second

Green Bay (AP)—The Chicago Bears and the Green Bay Packers fought to a 12 to 12 tie Sunday afternoon before a record crowd of 10,000.

The first Chicago touchdown came in the first half on an end run by J. Sternaman. The other came in the same period when Sturridge caught Lewellen's punt on the Bears' ten yard line and zigzagged down the field for a touchdown. Both attempts at extra point failed.

The Packers carried the fight to the Bears in the second half and in the third quarter after working the ball down the field put it across on a 20 yard pass, Kotal to Lewellen. In the last period after a series of line plays and passes, Lewellen crashed through on an off tackle play for 50 yards to tie the score. O'Boyle failed kick goal.

Green Bay came close to victory in the last minute of play when O'Boyle attempted to field goal from the 25 yard line, but it fell five feet short.

Traffon, Bear center, was forced to leave the game in the third quarter from injuries.

FOND DU LAC OPENS SEASON WITH 19-6 WIN

Fond du Lac—Fond du Lac High won its opening Fox River Valley conference game Saturday by defeating Sheboygan 19 to 6. The Red and White scored the first touchdown shortly after the opening of the second period, when series of plunges put the ball within scoring distance. Schmidt went over.

Fondy scored again in the same period when Snow blocked a drop kick and fell on the ball back of the line. Calhoun kicked goal. With the score 12 to 0 against them, Sheboygan worked hard in the last half, finally putting the ball over on a series of passes. A pass, Meyer to Gadowacki, put the ball over. J. Jensen missed the kick. The Red and White came back strong and scored again after Hightower recovered a fumble on Sheboygan's 20 yard line. A pass put the ball on the five-yard line and Kennedy went through on his second plunge.

The Boston Red Sox romped to an easy 7 to 3 win over the Cleveland Indians, Phil Todd getting a home run and three singles.

The St. Louis Cardinals lost to the runner-up New York Giants, 4 to 2.

The Chicago Cubs, in third place, took the Cincinnati Reds into camp, 6 to 1, behind good pitching by Percy Jones.

The Brooklyn Dodgers conquered the Phillies 5 to 1. It was the first time since 1924 that the Dodgers have finished with a percentage of .500 or better.

The opening play was a Two River pass Rosy to Ed Becker, which netted 20 yards. After several incomplete passes Appleton recovered a fumble and kicked out of danger. Two Rivers returned the punt and as Papp was going to boot it back was blocked by Ed Becker who scooped up the ball and ran ten yards for the only Two Rivers touchdown.

Krause went in for Kuntz and on the first play he returned a punt

Plunging Attack Brings Highs Three Touchdowns

Coach Gives Practically All of Squad Chance in Game

Coach Joseph Shields assemblage of 22 "Tackling Terrors" who invaded Two Rivers Saturday plunged their way to victory by an overwhelming score of 24 to 6. In the first two periods both teams fought on even terms but a plunging drive by Appleton in the final periods netted the locals three touchdowns.

Since plunging was the main attack used by Coach Shields' gridmen for three of the four touchdowns were made in this manner. Papp was the star plunger while Kuntz also showed up well. Crane diminutive sophomore substitute quarterback made several long runs of 30 yards. Berg, who played regular quarterback held down the position nicely.

Several times the Appleton goal was in danger of being crossed but as the Two Rivers team was light and inexperienced they were unable to break through the "terrors" stone wall line. During the first half the Appleton gridmen were held, but in the last two periods they came to life and were a changed lot.

FIRST QUARTER
During the first three minutes of play Appleton ran the ball down to its opponent's 20 yard line and a successful pass Berg to Kuntz scored the touchdown. The remainder of the first was marked with short passes from each team but the ball never got within scoring distance of either goal. Appleton 6—Two Rivers 0.

SECOND QUARTER
The opening play was a Two River pass Rosy to Ed Becker, which netted 20 yards. After several incomplete passes Appleton recovered a fumble and kicked out of danger. Two Rivers returned the punt and as Papp was going to boot it back was blocked by Ed Becker who scooped up the ball and ran ten yards for the only Two Rivers touchdown.

Krause went in for Kuntz and on the first play he returned a punt

15 yards. Appleton's attempt to score in the second was futile when Berg passed to De Young who dropped the ball as he over the goal line.

THIRD QUARTER
Appleton opened up with a touchdown in the first two minutes of play when Popp plunged 16 yards and brought the ball to the opponents three yard line and on the next play went over. The goal kick was wide.

Appleton marched the ball down the field with ease and Kuntz brought it within five yards of the goal on a 20 yard end run. Popp plunged over for his second touchdown of the period. The goal kick was missed again.

The quarter ended with the ball on the Two Rivers 10 yard goal line. Score—Appleton 18, Two Rivers 6.

FOURTH QUARTER
Popp brought the ball to the 3 yard line and Kuntz plunged over for the final touchdown. The goal kick was blocked. Krause went in for Berg and ran a punt back 30 yards as the game ended.

Score—Appleton 24, Two Rivers 6.

PIONEERS WALLOP NORTHWESTERN, 40-0

Lutherans Approach Carroll 40 Yard Line Once on Fumble

Watertown — Carroll college won from Northwestern college Saturday, 40 to 0, in a drab, slow exhibition of football on a hot, dusty field. The only bit of color in the game came when Fellenz, Carroll end, ran 60 yards for a touchdown in the second quarter. His run followed close on the heels of a bad Carroll fumble, which put Northwestern on Carroll's 40-yard line, the closest the Watertown team came to a touchdown during the game.

Both teams fumbled badly. Northwestern indulging in more of it. Carroll's first score came after five minutes of the opening quarter when a series of passes brought the ball within a few yards of the line and Masters pushed it over. Regan made good the kick. In the same quarter a pass, Goerke to H. Rasmussen, was good for 25 yards and a touchdown, Regan again making the kick count.

Fellenz' touchdown in the second and another kick by Regan made the score 21 to 0 for Carroll at the half.

Goerke brought the ball near the goal from the 40-yard line in two plunges in the third quarter and Masters carried it across. Engel of Northwestern blocked Regan's kick. Again in the third, Masters ran around right and 30 yards for a touchdown. Regan made his kick good.

Orlebek carried the ball across in the fourth quarter, and Regan missed his kick.

U. W. AND IRISH FURNISH BIGGEST THRILL THIS WEEK

Mid Season Football Will Be on Exhibition at Madison Saturday

Chicago (AP)—Football in the western conference will burst into full volume next Saturday, with every eleven locked in combat, and with the spotlight turned on the battle between Notre Dame and Wisconsin at Madison.

All of the big ten engagements, with one exception, will be merely warm-up contests. The one exception will be the Wisconsin-Notre Dame affair which probably will be productive of football of mid-season calibre. The game will attract a record breaking crowd for the Camp Randall field. Upwards of 40,000 will attempt to squeeze into the stadium.

It will be Wisconsin's first game of the season and the second for Notre Dame, which barely took a 12 to 6 victory over Loyola university of New Orleans Saturday.

Chicago, which was dealt a double setback in its twin bill opener Saturday by the university of South Carolina and Ripon college of Wisconsin, will clash with another heavy, strong eleven, the university of Wyoming, on Stagg field. Coach Stagg's line was miserably weak in the first battle and the South Carolina game-socks ripped it almost shreds in winning, 6 to 0. The Ripon followed up the destruction by drubbing the Maroon reserves, 12 to 0.

Coach Pat Page's heavy Indiana squad, which opened its season auspiciously with a double victory last Saturday, defeating Washburn college, 14 to 0, and St. Joseph's college, 39 to 0, will meet a much stiffer competition at Bloomington this week end in the university of Oklahoma. The Sooners always have a good defensive team and one of the best aerial attacks in the southwest. Saturday's games revealed that Hoosiers have the same type of crashing line play used to turn out a less material at Butler college.

Bradley college will give Coach Bob Zupke and the Illinois "iron" his first test at Champaign. "Zup" has been telling many tear stories this season and the contest will attract considerable attention.

LITTLE VILLAGE IN TENNESSEE PLANS TO WELCOME HOOVER

Expect 50,000 Persons Will Hear Candidates On 1st Southern Address

Elizabethton, Tenn.—Tucked away in the rolling foothills of the Appalachian Mountains, this historic little East Tennessee town is making preparations to entertain 50,000 visitors on Oct. 6 when Herbert Hoover will come here to make his only southern address in his campaign for the presidency.

It's a stupendous task for a town of only 12,000 population, but Elizabethton is meeting the situation. Committees are of the job; every unoccupied hall and building has been engaged for sleeping quarters, cots, blankets and camp equipment have been ordered; a tent hotel is being erected; restaurants, lunch counters and barbecue stands are being made ready; 2,000 acres of parking space has been reserved and 200 extra policemen engaged.

For historic Elizabethton—which saw the "King's Mountain boys" drill with their flintlock muskets in the Revolutionary War, which knew Andrew Jackson when he was a country lawyer, which saw the death of President Andrew Johnson—preparing for a gala day. It's on the fringe of "the old south."

ODD GATHERING
"Hoover Day in Dixie" will be one of the strangest political meetings of the 1928 presidential campaign. Awkward mountaineers in blue jeans and hickory shirts will rub elbows with silk-hatted and frock-coated New Yorkers, tired mothers of freckle-faced little boys will sit beside elegantly gowned society matrons from Knoxville and other nearby cities.

Arriving, Hoover will be escorted into the town on a carpet of roses, tossed into the highway by thousands of school children from East Tennessee. As his auto enters the city the air will be rent with the noise of a sham battle in which artillery, machine guns, howitzers and airplanes will participate. Adding to the din, all factory whistles will be sounded and rock quarries for miles around will set off dynamite blasts.

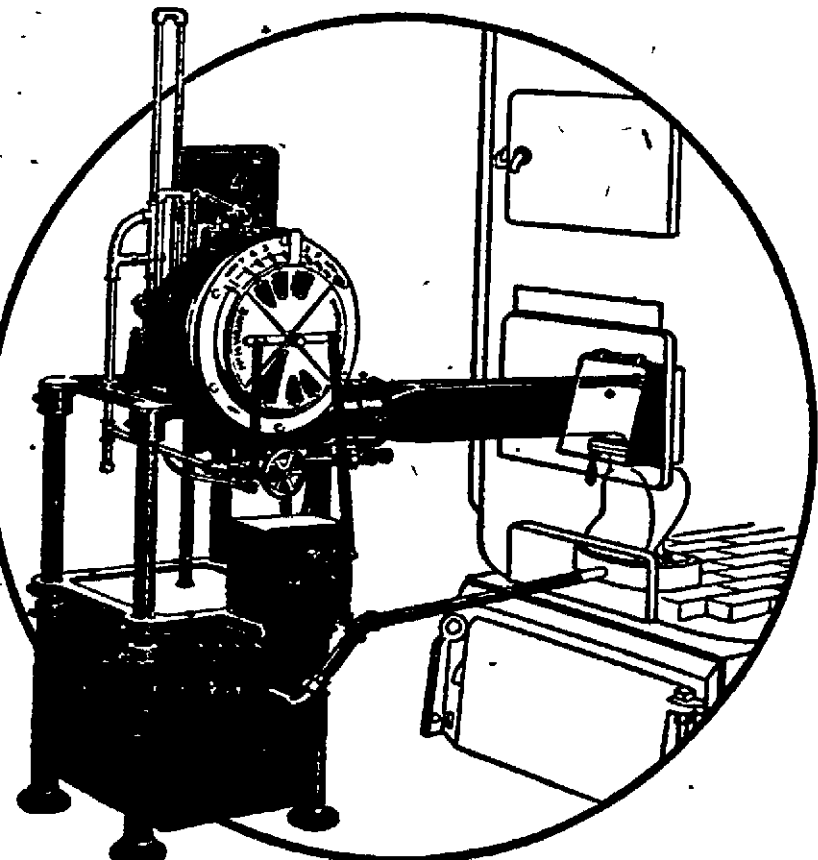

Mr. and Mrs. Hoover will be guests of honor at a luncheon and immediately thereafter they will take part in a big parade. This colorful procession, staged by Elizabethton as an industrial pageant and extravaganza, will be a tribute to the products of its industry, will be led by a tribe of Cherokee Indians from North Carolina.

"UNCLE ALF" INTRODUCES
When Hoover speaks to acres of upturned faces from a temporary stand on the side of Lynn Mountain, he will be introduced by ex-Governor Alf Taylor, Tennessee's only Republican governor (except for a fusion candidate) since Civil War days. "Uncle Alf" as he is familiarly known, is famous all over East Tennessee as a fox hunter and old-time fiddler.

Immediately after his speech Mr. and Mrs. Hoover will leave for Washington, but that night the streets of Elizabethton will be gay under the flickering glare of torches. From curb to curb the streets will sway with dancing mountaineers, tripping to music supplied by brass bands, jazz orchestras and old fiddlers.

The shades of famous men of the past probably will look down upon the scene, for Elizabethton is rich in history.

DEFIED BRITISH RULE
It was here that the Watauga Association, the first independent government set up west of the Allegheny Mountains in defiance of British rule, was founded. Under the leadership of John Sevier, it drove the Indians to what is now Chattanooga, and founded the state of Tennessee.

RIVER DREDGING WORK IS ALMOST COMPLETED

Work of dredging the channel of the Fox river at Drunkards Point is nearly completed. Operations on the northern half of the river were finished two weeks ago and work is progressing rapidly on the southern part. When the work is finished the channel will be seven feet deep and 250 feet wide for a distance of 1,000 feet. The work was divided into northern and southern half so that navigation would not be hampered, according to A. F. Everett, government engineer.

BOY SCOUTS ARRANGE PROGRAMS FOR WINTER

Boy scouts of the valley council are arranging their winter programs, and seeking new members for building patrols according to M. G. Clark, valley scout executive. Troop activities will start within the next two weeks, and scouts will start working for higher merit badge awards. Regular troop meetings also will start next week. Scouting activities were hampered slightly during the past month because of the opening of school, and other events which directed the attention of the boys towards other fields.

The town was named for Sevier's wife, Elizabeth.

It was near here that the lanky mountaineers with their long flintlock rifles put the British troops to rout in the Battle of King's Mountain after General Ferguson had advanced and commanded the Watauga Association to disband immediately and take the oath of allegiance to King George III. The mountaineers assembled at Sycamore Shoals, one mile from Elizabethton. In their coonskin caps to begin their long march through the wilderness to King's Mountain.

Under the spreading boughs of a giant sycamore tree that still stands today, Andrew Jackson conducted the first court to be held west of the Alleghenies independent of British authority. Jackson later became attorney general for this district and rode horseback to attend circuit court.

WHERE JOHNSON DIED
Two miles from Elizabethton is the old Stover house in which President Andrew Johnson died of paralysis a short time after he had gone there to live with his daughter, Mrs. Dan Stover. The old house stands on the farm of Dr. W. D. Esnor.

Elizabethton has grown from a population of 2,800 to 12,000 in the past three years. Industrial development, encouraged by cheap water-power and ample raw material, explains it. German textile interests, the American Bemberg and the American Glanzstoff companies, have erected big plants here for the manufacture of rayon and imitation silk from wood pulp and cotton linters. The first units are already in operation, but when both plants are completed and working full swing it is estimated they will employ 30,000 persons.

It is believed that Hoover chose Elizabethton for his southern speech because rural east Tennessee has been overwhelmingly Republican ever since the Civil War, although the state as a whole is normally Democratic.

CLASS '29 WINS M'KINLEY AWARD

Loving Cup Is Won by Seniors for Highest Scholastic Average

The McKinley school loving cup, awarded annually to the class with the highest scholastic average, general and subject improvement, was presented to the class of '29 at an assembly meeting Friday morning. Miss Camille Verbrick, vice-president of the class, accepted the award.

Frank B. Younger, principal of McKinley school, outlined the workings of the merit and award system which recognizes the improvement of McKinley pupils every six weeks. First award is a scholarship card presented to the pupils who have three more A grades and the remainder including citizenship B grades. The second award is a general improvement card, less ornate than the first, which is given to those pupils who have a net improvement in three or more subjects and a C or higher in citizenship. The third is a subject improvement card which is given to those pupils who have a net improvement in one subject and a C or more in citizenship.

Each pupil has a self-rating point sheet on which he keeps account of points for scholarship, extra-curricular, special service work and thrift.

Following Mr. Younger's talk the girls of the ninth grade presented an original comedy entitled "First Days in School." Gloria Schroeder took the part of the teacher, and the pupils were Ruth Rowland, Harriet Drexler, Betty Rettler, Helen Monson, and Ione Stearns.

Eleven Outagamie county corporations will lose their corporation rights and privileges unless they file their annual reports with the state before Jan. 1, 1929, according to word received by A. G. Koch, county register of deeds, from Theodore Dammann, secretary of state.

Book Of Knowledge

Our Presidents

There was nothing of the weakling about Abraham Lincoln, but he bore a terrific burden, and when he was re-elected in 1864, it seemed as if he carried more than he could endure in heart and mind. But with the sure hand of a leader of men, he guided the nation into peace at last, with the surrender of the noble Lee at Appomattox in 1865.

By NEA, Through Special Permission of the Publishers of The Book of Knowledge, Copyright, 1923-25.

The country went wild with joy, but five days later was plunged into an abyss of sorrow as the news came that Lincoln had been assassinated.

The president was shot in the head by an actor, John Wilkes Booth, as he sat in a box in a Washington theater.

Booth was shot in a barn after he had eluded pursuit for twelve days. After the first fury of revenge had died out, the people came to realize the real bitterness of their loss. "This was a man," the nation said as one, and the words were uttered with a sob. Vice President Andrew Johnson of Tennessee became president. (To Be Continued)

RIVERVIEW GOLF CLUB GETS DEEDS TO NEW GROUNDS

Expected to Spent About $100,000 in Building Course on Lake Winnebago

Deeds for property along Lake Winnebago, on which the new country club will be built by members of Riverview country club will be laid out, have been delivered to club officials, according to recent announcement. The tract purchased is immediately east of Shore Acres and comprises 170 acres, 115 acres having been purchased from Louis Apitz and 55 acres from the Meyer estate.

The property for the new course has a frontage of a half mile on Lake Winnebago which will serve for a harbor should members wish to have a yacht club at a later date. However, plans at this time are for a golf course only.

A meeting of members of the committee working on plans for the course will be held Thursday night. Golf architects will be present at the meeting and submit plans for the course. It is expected the contract for work will be let and cleaning and grading of the property will start this fall. Plans are to have the course in first class condition and ready for play in the spring of 1930.

The new course including property costs and "laying out" will cost between $100,000 and $125,000, it is estimated. Plans for a clubhouse are not being considered at the present time.

A report of the committee working on the new course will be submitted at the annual meeting of club members in October. Members of the committee are Mowry Smith, chairman, A. W. Bergstrom, Kenneth Dickinson, John Stevens, Ray Petersen and Ray Thickers.

SECRETARIAL COURSE ATTRACTS ENTHUSIASTS

The new course in secretarial training to be given in the evening classes at Appleton vocational school should be of interest to employers as well as stenographers, according to Herb Hellig, director. The course will enable stenographers to apply themselves to modern problems which confront office secretaries.

The aims of the course are to increase speed and accuracy in shorthand and typewriting, to review the fundamental principles of business English, to study and answer actual letter problems in the 10 different kinds of business letters, and to enable the stenographers to assume more responsibility in the business office.

Calls Dahlias 'Hard Eggs' Of Flower Kingdom

Dahlias are the typical "hard eggs" of the flower kingdom, so far as thermal conditions are concerned, according to Mark Catlin, flower enthusiast who boasts of nearly 250 different species in his flower garden. The name Dahlia is derived from the name of the noted Swedish botanist Dahl, who spent much time in the culture of the tuberous plant.

The flower is one of the few which blossoms late in autumn after frost has raised havoc with the pretty things which decorate gardens, homes, and public places. Thermal conditions have little effect on dahlias, according to Mr. Catlin.

Dahlias require a little more care than ordinary flowers. The time to dig the bulbs is after frost has completely wilted the upper part of the plant and the bulbs have had ample time to be cured in the soil, he pointed out.

After they are removed from the ground, usually about the middle of November, they should be set out in the sun to dry for a week. Dirt clinging to the bulbs should be removed. The bulbs are then put into baskets or boxes for winter storage. They should not be exposed to excessive heat or cold during that time.

It often happens that about March 1, the bulbs start to sprout, and Mr. Catlin advises flower growers to separate the bulbs from the clump of tubers at that time. The bulbs are separated and sorted, according to planting sizes. They are then placed in separate boxes, and are sorted according to the size of the plants. The size of the bush has a lot to do with the raising of beautiful dahlias, he says. Often a large bush will kill a small bush, that may have flowers twice as beautiful. The time to plant the bulbs for another year's growth is the first part of May after the planter is sure that all frost is out of the ground.

10,400 VOTERS ARE REGISTERED HERE

City Clerk Expects Registration Will Reach 12,000 Before General Election

More than 12,000 persons in Appleton are eligible to qualify as voters, it is estimated by Carl Becker, city clerk, who has finished a review of registration records.

Completing a count of voters registered to date, he found 10,400 names on the roll. This number will easily reach the 12,000 mark before the regular election arrives on Nov. 6, he believes.

Following is a record of the number of voters registered in each ward: First 1,790; Second, 1,320; Third, 2,310; Fourth, 1,120; Fifth, 2,100; Sixth, 1,750.

As an inducement to women voters to register, the city clerk again calls attention to the fact that it is not necessary to divulge one's age in filling out the blank. When he first issued this announcement several weeks ago, a decided increase was noted in the number of women appearing to register, he reported.

As the election draws closer, many hundred more voters are expected to register at the city clerk's office.

PEABODY TO TALK AT CHURCH MEETING

Appleton Pastor Will Discuss Christian Unity at Conference

Dr. H. E. Peabody, pastor of the Congregational church, will give an address, International Phases, at the nineteenth annual meeting of the Wisconsin Congregational conference Oct. 1, 2, and 3 at Racine. President Glenn Frank of the University of Wisconsin will address the gathering at its annual banquet, which will close the conference on Wednesday night.

"Christian Unity" is the general theme for the meeting, and Dr. Peabody, in his speech, will point out Christian unity as a reality in international, inter-racial and industrial relations. Others who will use the same theme will be the Rev. Roscoe Graham, Milwaukee; the Rev. R. W. Barstow, Madison; and Mrs. E. E. Morrill, Antigo.

The increase in the membership of young people's societies of Congregational churches during the past year was 890 or 27 per cent, bringing the total membership to 4,142. The communicant membership of the 222 Congregational churches in Wisconsin increased 569 in 1928, and is now 36,027. The increase in men, 314 was nearly as large as that in women which was 355. The total number of men is now 13,252, and of women, 22,106. The total Sunday School enrollment is 26,455.

The churches have reported raising for all purposes during the year $846,838. The amount for regular missionary work was $94,237, an increase of $2,977 over the preceding year. For all benevolences, including missions, $137,431 was raised. The amount raised for local expenses was $709,407. Fifteen churches reported receiving legacies totaling $26,915, and invested funds held by fifteen churches total $124,866.

The average pastoral salary is reported as $2,306, an increase of $108 over the preceding year. In addition to salary most of the pastors are provided with a parsonage and also receive substantial credit toward a pension annuity.

Fire Chief George P. McGillan left Monday for Chicago where he expects to spend a short vacation. During his absence Assistant Chief Nick Reider will have charge of the department.

Important NOTICE!

Contrary to the opinion of many, the Fair Store will be open as usual—for two very good reasons. First, we have a considerable amount outstanding on our books, and we certainly would not lock the door if somebody wants to pay their account. So we will be very happy to accommodate our customers in that respect and incidentally we might add that early settlement of accounts will be most gratefully appreciated.

Secondly—Altho we are practically sold out and the Alteration Sale officially ended last Saturday, there still remains a collection of odds and ends in various departments. These items have been re-arranged into the front section of the store and will be sold either in whole or in part.

Anyone interested in buying up some good merchandise at prices less than the manufacturers would sell them to you in trainload lots, had better look this store over. The public is also invited and there are many excellent bargains to be had. A few of them are quoted below to give you an idea of what they are. All sales final and for cash only.
